

THE HAYTI HERALD.

VOL. 3.

HAYTI, MISSOURI, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1911.

NO. 48.

RESOLUTIONS

Adopted by the County Teachers' Association.

We, the teachers of Pemiscot county, assembled at Steele, wish to express our thanks to the people of the Baptist church for the use of their building.

Resolved: That we express our thanks to the editor of the Steele News for his kind consideration; that we extend our thanks to Prof. Shackleford of the Cape Girardeau Normal, and Rural School Inspector, G. W. Reavis, for their interesting and instructive talks during our meeting and especially for their addresses on agriculture and teachers' duties.

Resolved: That the teachers of the county should make a close study of the course of study, and earnestly strive to put into practice the principles suggested therein.

Resolved: That we appreciate the work of the State Reading Circle and commend the close study of the texts selected for the consideration and study of the teachers of the county.

Resolved: That we express our appreciation to the county superintendent, Chas. G. Ross, and officers of the association, J. S. Webb, Chairman and Miss Gladys Chadwell, Secretary, for the manner in which the association was conducted.

Resolved: That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the county papers for publication.

Committee: VERA SMITH, LEOTA GILLILAND, G. F. PETTY

Rev. I. Q. McCorkle left to attend the Methodist conference at Kirkwood on Monday of last week, and returned Tuesday morning. We are glad to know that Rev. McCorkle has been returned to this work, as he is a good and earnest man, and did much good. His second year among our people should add greatly to the results of his labors.

J. T. Bissett attended the fair at Cape Girardeau last week. Tom says he sure saw Capatin Baldwin "flying in air."

A CUTTING AFFRAY.

A serious cutting affray occurred at Caruthersville Monday night, in which Lee Flemming and Albert Dugger were seriously cut by a negro. From all reports, the assault of the negro was entirely uncalled for, and that the temporary escape of the negro who did the cutting is all that averted a lynching.

The negro was working on Toad Baird's place, where he was captured late in the night by Constable Watkins, and to avoid summary vengeance was confined in the Hayti city jail till morning, when he was transferred to the Kennett jail.

It is said that Flemming is in a critical condition, but may recover. Dugger was not so seriously wounded.

We have been unable to learn just how the difficulty arose.

Later: It is said that Mr. Flemming had been ill for some time, and being weak and tired, he and Dugger had stepped out of the side door of the barber shop to enter the saloon to get a drink, when Dugger brushed against the negro, at which the negro took offense, and began slashing the white men.

Feeling against the negro is high, and it is not too late yet for him to be summarily dealt with.

Tuesday Night: A crowd of 200 or 300 was formed in Caruthersville, bent on lynching the negro, and in some way obtained charge of a engine and coach, and between 50 and 100 men went to Kennett, passing through Hayti a little after midnight. The news had doubtless been sent to Kennett, and when the crowd arrived there the negro had been spirited away from the jail, and they returned home.

Judge Hans E. Doerner, the leading legal light of the south end of the county, came up Saturday to attend to legal matters before Esq. Gwin's court, and went away with colors flying. Judge Doerner is one of the moving spirits of his section of the county, and is doing a whole lot to advertise it and to build it up.

LEFLER-DORRIS.

Saturday evening L. L. Lefler and Miss Ada Dorris, accompanied by Mrs. Mollie Dorris and daughter, Miss Hettie, and Rev. J. B. Swanner, quietly auto-mobiled over to Caruthersville and repaired to the home of H. E. Averill, where Rev. Swanner performed the ceremony that made Mr. Lefler and Miss Dorris man and wife.

After the ceremony, they returned to Hayti, and that night Mr. and Mrs. Lefler left for St. Louis for a brief sojourn and to attend to business matters.

Mr. Lefler is one of Hayti's most prominent and progressive business men, and Miss Dorris one of our most prominent young ladies.

We join with their many friends in wishing them a long and happy life.

Judge E. L. Davis of Braggadocio paid this office a pleasant call Tuesday. The Judge has just returned from a trip through the Ozarks along the southern border, and reports a most enjoyable trip. There is something fascinating about the Ozarks, and the Judge is in love with that country, but of course the soil there does not compare with ours, and he owns so much good lands here that he cannot afford to leave. Judge Davis promises us a good article on lands, values and resources of Pemiscot county in the near future.

Last Thursday afternoon the incoming Kennett train ran down and killed a fine mare and colt belonging to Dr. F. A. Mayes. At the place where the killing occurred the track was clear, and from the information obtainable it seems that no effort was made to avoid the accident, if accident it might be called.

J. M. Berry and nephew, Dave Berry, of Charleston, Miss., arrived in Hayti last week, with the expectation of locating here and to begin with, bought a restaurant on the north side of the square.

THREE YEARS OLD.

Three years is about as long as any paper has ever been able to live in Hayti.

On the 25th of October the Hayti Herald will be three years old, and we are nearing that goal with flying colors and a full stomach.

During this time there have been many who thought they would put us "out of business," with about the same result as the small boy who tackles his first hornet's nest.

Having safely passed the danger mark, it might be well to serve notice that we will still do business at the same old stand, and that we have a nice stock of rich, juicy obituaries ready for delivery.

In a few weeks our subscription collector will visit you again. Keep your dog tied and have a dollar ready.

The Cotton Exchange Bank is a new bank for Pemiscot county, organized at Steele last week, with Judge J. S. Gossom, president; Dr. J. W. Robbins, vice-president; S. E. Redden, 2nd, vice-president, and Max L. Kelley, cashier. The stockholders are made up among the best farmers of that part of the county, and it will be a strong bank. The organization of an institution of this kind, when that city already has a bank, would indicate that Steele is coming to the front. The new bank will occupy rooms in the Henry Stephens new brick building.

Pete (Alfonso C.) LaForge of Caruthersville corrects us on the spelling of a French name. We appreciate the courtesy of Pete, and if more people would show a friendly spirit towards their local paper, it might be better. Mr. LaForge in a descendant of the old French settlers of New Madrid and Pemiscot counties.

Dr. R. S. Keirse of Braggadocio was in Hayti Monday and Tuesday.

Will Helm has been ill for several days.

WOODLAWN CEMETERY.

On Wednesday of last week a deal was closed by the city to buy Woodlawn cemetery. The deed was received from Oklahoma, and the city issued a warrant for the amount. So now the cemetery belongs to the city and those who bury there can do so knowing who is to take care of and be responsible for keeping up the cemetery. Until further arrangements can be made, Mayor Ravenstein will attend to the cemetery and those wanting to buy lots should see him.

$3.40 COTTON.

Cotton has come in at a lively rate for the past week, last Saturday being the banner day of the season, there being more than 100,000 brought to this market on that day, which sold at $3.30 to $3.40 per 100 pounds.

The price for Wednesday was $3.10 to $3.40, with prospects for better prices.

The Modern Gin & Compress Company started up Wednesday and is one of our strong buyers.

The four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Portwood died Sunday night.
